

Procurement - Helping to keep the organisation running

CIPS New Zealand and the Christchurch Committee warmly invites you to the restart of our 2011 Events Programme.

We are delighted to present an internationally recognised procurement professional. Craig Johnstone has worked with numerous multi nationals and has been involved in major procurement transformations, strategic sourcing and category management programmes.

Come along to hear Craig discuss the following hot topics:

Linking organisational goals and procurement's contribution to successfully achieving them - why is it so important to get Procurement right and manage risks effectively

Looking at the key consequences of not managing Procurement associated risks on the organisation including; Losing Market Share, Disrupting Supply, Bad Press, Non-budgeted financial penalties and Loss of Competitive Advantage

Types of Purchasing risk (Internal, Supplier and Market) and how to gain a better understanding of them

Prioritising what risks to manage by Spend Portfolio + looking at the upside of Risk Management

Using procurement to minimise the damage caused by unforeseen disasters - what is best practice?

We look forward to you joining us and our two new committee members, Laura Turner & James Makoni at the 'The George'.

Speaker: Craig Johnstone

Craig has accumulated best-practice knowledge and experience in the development of world class, end to end Procurement. He's gained this experience operating within the UK for over 15 years, both in line management roles and, more recently as a Consultant. For the first 5 years of his career, Craig developed his procurement capabilities as a Global Category Manager for Electronic devices and Plastics with Ford Motor Company before moving to ABB (Metering Division) to take up a Supply Manager role. There his responsibilities included the outsourcing of core sub-assembly processes for the organisation's Electro-mechanical metering business to the Far East.
